

Anja Kasalović, born in Podgorica, Montenegro, has spent most of her life in Banja Luka. After graduating from the Secondary School of Technology, majoring in Art Technician, she continued her education at the Academy of Arts at the University of Banja Luka, where she has been studying film, TV, radio, and theater production since 2022. During her studies, she actively participates in various student projects, including films, plays, and festivals. In addition to her education, she volunteers at cultural events and workshops.